Mr Manu Sood, an experienced plastic surgeon, offering a full range of cosmetic, therapeutic and reconstructive procedures. Supported by an experienced administrative and nursing team, he offers private treatment at a number of independent hospitals in Essex.

Mr Sood trained extensively in plastic surgery both in the UK and abroad before becoming a consultant in the NHS and developing a private practice in Essex and East London.

He is a co-founder of the prestigious Mentor Cosmetic Fellowship. This is one of two such posts in the UK for the most senior trainees in plastic surgery who wish to learn the art and craft of cosmetic surgery, before they become consultants in their own right and commence private practice.

Actively involved in postgraduate teaching, Mr Sood is responsible for the training of the senior registrar in Hand Surgery attached to the Regional Plastic Surgery Unit. Mr Sood's special interests include facial reconstruction following surgery for skin cancer, breast surgery and cosmetic surgery. In his private practice, he offers the full range of cosmetic surgical procedures and non surgical aesthetic treatments (Botox, fillers, laser).

Mr Sood maintains his accreditation for Continuing Medical Education by attending national and international conferences, visiting centres with an international reputation, remaining up to date with published literature and participating in postgraduate education and audit.
