

Shameer Mehta

Consultant Gastroenterologist
London

Dr Shameer Mehta is an experienced Consultant Gastroenterologist consulting privately at The London Gastroenterology Centre, Welbeck Street. He offers comprehensive treatment for dyspepsia, reflux disorders and a wide range of other gastrointestinal conditions.

Dr Mehta is a highly qualified Consultant Gastroenterologist at University College London Hospital, and is also available for private consultations at The London Gastroenterology Centre, Welbeck Street. A renowned specialist, Dr Mehta's clinical practice encompasses all aspect of gastroenterology, with a particular focus on clinical nutrition and inflammatory bowel disease.

Combining both his extensive clinical experience and training, Dr Mehta offers a comprehensive approach to the diagnosis and treatment of gut disorders. He strives to provide his patients with the highest standards of care, working hard to deliver the best patient outcomes across the scope of his practice.

Dr Mehta obtained his primary medical qualification from the University of London, from which he graduated in 2003 with a Bachelor in Medicine and Surgery, having previously obtained a Bachelors in Science with honours in Molecular Medicine.

He subsequently went on to undertake an advanced training programme at three different London teaching hospitals. From this he gained experience in the management of patients with inflammatory bowel disease and intestinal failure. Following this extensive training, Dr Mehta embarked on a joint fellowship in Translational Science Research and Medical Education from the Blizard Institute and Queen Mary University in London.

Not long after, he was appointed Consultant Gastroenterologist at University College London Hospital, where he works within the highly-specialised Intestinal Failure Unit.

Putting patient care at the heart of all that he does, Dr Mehta has been instrumental in helping to improve the patient's experiences when taken ill, across four major London Hospitals. His patient centric approach allows him the unique opportunity to not only ensure that his patients are in control of their treatment, but also that their care is tailored to their individual needs.
