Ms Karen Joash is a consultant obstetrician and gynaecologist who practices in Harley Street and Central London. She provides high-quality services to women suffering from a range of conditions.

Treatments provided include: maternal medicine, perinatal mental health, hysteroscopies and fertility advice.

Ms Karen Joash gained her medical degree from Imperial College London University and earned a place on the prestigious postgraduate obstetrics and gynaecology training programme. Since completing her training she has been passionate about delivering the highest standards of care for all women, both at her NHS location, Imperial Healthcare NHS Trust, and in her private practice.

Her enthusiasm for excellent care led to her appointment as Training Programme Director for doctors in post graduate training in obstetrics and gynaecology in North-West London. At Imperial Healthcare NHS Trust she is the clinical lead for postnatal care and is also the lead for maternity guidelines.

Ms Joash has over 10 years' experience assisting women who are suffering from a number of conditions. She provides a personal service for all of her patients, tailoring any treatment necessary to their individual needs. She prides herself on her clarity of communication with patients and providing only the highest quality care in an empathetic manner.
