With 25 years' experience in Gynaecology and Obstetrics and over 17 years' experience in Fertility and Assisted Conception, Dr Rina Agrawal is a Fertility Doctor providing IVF in London, Harley Street and Warwickshire.

Dr Rina Agrawal is a Consultant & an Associate Professor in Reproductive Medicine / Assisted Conception & Obstetrics/Gynaecology with practicing privileges at The Portland Hospital, The London Clinic Harley Street, Centre of Reproductive Medicine (CRM London), The London Fertility Centre and University College London where she received her formal training & PhD in Reproductive Medicine. She also sees patients at University Hospitals of Coventry & Warwickshire and BMI The Meriden Hospital in Coventry.

Accredited both in the UK and in India, Dr Agrawal offers one to one fertility and gynaecology advice and treatment. She provides an integrated holistic and multidisciplinary approach to fertility treatment; as well as scientific treatment methods she advises on nutritional and lifestyle changes, reduction of stress, and detoxification processes. She also provides complementary care such as acupuncture and support counselling services which may help alleviate anxiety and improve the chances of pregnancy. Dr Agrawal has individually managed over 6000 cycles of IVF/ICSI and more than 9000 insemination treatment cycles over the last 17 years.

The Hind Rattan "Jewel of India" award was one of the several awards which Rina received within the year of 2010 as later in June 2010 she was nominated to receive her NHS Trust OSCA (Outstanding Service and Care) Awards and in September 2010 she received the prestigious "Achievers Gold Medal" from the House of Lords in London for significant contributions in the field of reproductive medicine. In November 2009 she was nominated for the NHS London Innovations Award and appointed the Research Collaborator between Federation of Indian College of Obstetrics & Gynaecology and the UK in August 2009. She also received the "Pride of India" award in January 2011.
