

Phillip Thomas

Consultant Trauma & Orthopaedic Hip Surgeon

Cardiff

Based in Cardiff, Mr Phill Thomas is a specialist hip surgeon who offers expert assessment and treatment for the full range of hip conditions, including sports-related injuries, degenerative conditions such as arthritis, and hip problems in children, babies, adolescents and young adults.

Mr Phill Thomas is Consultant Trauma and Orthopaedic Surgeon and Honorary Lecturer at the University of Wales Hospital, Cardiff. He provides private hip surgery at the Cardiff Bay Clinic and The Vale Hospital, Hensol.

Mr Thomas attended St Thomas's Hospital, London in 1985 for his medical training, qualifying in 1990. He returned to South Wales for one of his house jobs and then to do a casualty post at the Cardiff Royal Infirmary. In 1994 he became a Fellow of the Royal College of Surgeons of England and started his orthopaedic training in 1995 on the South Wales rotation. He worked in several hospitals in the South Wales area, including the Royal Gwent, Morriston, West Wales General and the University Hospital in Cardiff.

In 1999 Mr Thomas took his final orthopaedic exams and gained the FRCS (Trauma and Orthopaedics). After this, to complete his training, he went to Canada to do a Fellowship in Paediatric Orthopaedic Surgery at the world famous Hospital for Sick Children in Toronto, developing his interest and expertise in paediatric and young adult hip disease.

In 2001 Mr Thomas was appointed a Consultant at the University Hospital of Wales and Llandough Hospital, a full time appointment in a busy teaching hospital. He continues to work there on a full time basis with a practice mainly involving paediatric and young adult hip problems. He also specialises in paediatric trauma. He is an Honorary Tutor to the medical school and is regularly involved in teaching and examining medical students.

Mr Thomas has a well-established medico-legal practice and regularly deals with patients who have sustained a personal injury and those affected by medical negligence.
