

Manu Mathew

Consultant Ophthalmic Surgeon
Derbyshire

Renowned Consultant Eye Doctor Manu Mathew is a specialist in cornea and glaucoma surgery, with a special interest in oculoplastic surgery, strabismus and medical retina. His private ophthalmic surgery practices are based in Manchester, Sheffield and Chesterfield.

Mr Manu Mathew is the Clinical Lead and Consultant Ophthalmologist at Chesterfield Royal Hospital. He also leads the cornea and external eye disease and glaucoma service.

A highly-skilled eye doctor, Mr Mathew is a graduate of JIPMER, Pondicherry, India (University of Madras) and worked as a Consultant Ophthalmologist at Sankara Nethralaya, Chennai, India. He subsequently trained at a number of teaching hospitals, including the Tennent Institute and Queen's Medical Centre (University of Nottingham), prior to taking up his current post as a Consultant Ophthalmic Surgeon at Chesterfield Royal Hospital NHS Foundation Trust.

Lens surgeon Mr Manu Mathew has a wide range of experience in the management of complex cases in his sub-specialties, including glaucoma surgery and corneal transplants. He performs cataract surgery with special lenses to help achieve complete spectacle independence after cataract surgery (for both distance and near vision) using premium multifocal and toric lens to correct astigmatism.
