Mr Ahmed El-Amir is an expert Consultant Ophthalmic Surgeon who specialises in advanced eye treatments including vitreo-retinal surgery, the latest techniques in small-incision cataract surgery and premium lens implant surgery. He offers private consultation in Harley Street and is the founder of The Harley Street Eye Clinic.

After qualifying in 2001 Mr El-Amir was mentored by Professor Bird at Moorfield Eye Hospital. He extended his knowledge completing training approved by The Royal College of Ophthalmologists, and as a result is now skilled in using the most up to date techniques in small-incision surgery.

He was the very first European surgeon to implant the miniature telescope (Centrasight Programme). In addition he is also the world's only eye surgeon to successfully provide the Centrasight Programme to patients that have already undergone eye surgery.

In 2001 he was chosen to work with teams at the Royal Berkshire Hospital and King Edwards VII Hospital in 2001. Mr El-Amir helped train a selection of senior advanced trainees in vitreo-retinal surgery, they are now all skilled consultants working in Australia, the United Kingdom and Slovakia.
