

Rohit Gupta

Consultant Orthopaedic Surgeon
Surrey

With a private practice covering West London, Surrey and Berkshire, Mr Rohit Gupta is an experienced specialist in upper limb surgery offering expert assessment and treatment for all conditions affecting the hand, wrist, elbow and shoulder, including arthritis, carpal tunnel syndrome, stiff elbow, frozen shoulder, rotator cuff tears and tendonitis.

Mr Rohit Gupta BSc (Hons), MBBS, FRCS (Eng), FRCS(Tr & Orth), is a Consultant Trauma and Orthopaedic Surgeon specialising in upper limb surgery at Ashford and St Peter's Hospitals NHS Trust, Middlesex. He provides private treatment for shoulder, elbow, hand and wrist complaints, both surgical and non-surgical, at a number of independent clinics in Surrey and Berkshire.

Mr Rohit Gupta was born in the UK and grew up in Scotland, Africa, Hong Kong and Kent. His medical undergraduate training took place at Guy's Hospital Medical School, University of London, qualifying in 1993. His post-graduate surgical training was at Guy's & St. Thomas' Hospitals, London. Specialist Orthopaedic Surgery training was undertaken in the South East Thames region of the NHS (South East London & Kent), including world-renowned Guy's & St. Thomas' Hospitals, London and King's College Hospital, London.

Upon completion of his orthopaedic training, Mr Gupta undertook one year of Specialist Surgical Fellowship training in Shoulder / Upper Limb Surgery & Sports Medicine / Arthroscopic Surgery in Perth, Australia in 2003-4. He worked with some of the best surgeons in Australia to hone his complex arthroscopic reconstructive skills, and therefore minimally invasive / keyhole surgery is now a real forté of his.

Mr Gupta was subsequently appointed as Consultant Trauma & Orthopaedic Surgeon with a specialist interest in Shoulder & Upper Limb Surgery at the nationally-renowned Rowley Bristow Orthopaedic Unit, Ashford and St Peter's Hospitals NHS Trust where he has been instrumental in developing the Upper Limb Surgery service since 2005. He has also developed a Specialist Upper Limb Private Practice based around West London, Surrey and Berkshire, with private clinics held in Chertsey, Woking, Windsor and Weybridge.
