Dr Conal Perrett is a leading London dermatologist offering expert treatment and management for all skin conditions, with a special interest in skin cancer. He is based at the Devonshire Clinic on Devonshire Street and also practices at University College London Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust and the Royal Brompton & Harefield NHS Foundation Trust.

Dr Conal Perrett is a Consultant Dermatologist and Dermatological Surgeon at University College London Hospital and the founder and Medical Director of The Devonshire Clinic. Providing private diagnosis and treatment for a comprehensive range of skin conditions, he is particularly skilled in advanced therapeutic techniques to treat skin cancer.

Dr Conal Perrett qualified in medicine at the University of Bristol, going on to postgraduate studies in Oxford and London, and becoming a member of the Royal College of Physicians in 2001. His specialist dermatology training was undertaken at some of the UK's leading hospitals, including The Royal Free Hospital and Barts, and he completed a dermatological and Mohs surgery fellowship at the University Hospital of Wales' Welsh Institute of Dermatology. In 2014 he was elected as a Fellow of the Royal College of Physicians.

With many years' experience at the top of his field, Dr Perrett plays a major role in providing skin cancer and dermatology services within the NHS in London. He has led the skin cancer service at UCLH NHS Foundation Trust, where he has established a Mohs micrographic surgery programme and a photodynamic therapy (PDT) service, and he is the lead for Mohs surgery on the London Cancer Skin Pathway Board. He also runs a specialist clinic at Harefield and Royal Brompton NHS Trust, open to both UK and overseas patients, designed to manage skin conditions in those who have undergone heart and lung transplants – a patient group with a greatly increased risk of skin cancer compared to the general population.

In addition, he has a special interest in skin problems in other groups of immunosuppressed individuals including those with haemato-oncological disorders such as chronic lymphocytic leukaemia. Again, such individuals have a much higher risk of skin cancer which can also be more aggressive.
