Mr Naweed Shahid is an experienced Consultant Gynaecologist with a specialist expertise in urogynaecology, laparoscopic (keyhole) surgery and colposcopy. With a private practice covering Northwest England, he offers high quality, individualised care for problems such as prolapse, urinary incontinence, menstrual disorders, fibroids, endometriosis and menopause.

Following his medical training in Pakistan, Mr Shahid was awarded Fellowship of the Royal College of Surgeons of Edinburgh and membership of the Royal College of Obstetricians and Gynaecologists. He completed his Certificate for Training in Obstetrics and Gynaecology in the Northwest Deanery, acquiring advanced training in laparoscopic surgery, urogynaecology and colposcopy.

Mr Shahid was appointed as a Consultant Obstetrician and Gynaecologist at Wroughtington, Wigan and Leigh Teaching Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust in 2008. He offers private treatment, including outpatient consultation and procedures and major gynaecological surgery, at BMI Alexandra Hospital in Cheadle, BMI Beaumont Hospital in Bolton, Oaklands Hospital Salford, Fairfield Independent Hospital in St Helens and The Wilmslow Hospital HCA in Cheshire.

Mr Shahid has a specialist interest and expertise in laparoscopic surgery and urogynaecology. He offers the highest standards of personalised care and provides conservative and surgical management of menstrual disorders, uterine and vaginal prolapse and urinary incontinence, taking care to ensure that patients are fully involved in the decision-making process. Mr Shahid is experienced in all types of prolapse surgery, including surgery without the need for hysterectomy, as well as surgical procedures for female urinary incontinence. He performs 90% of hysterectomies laparoscopically (keyhole surgery) or vaginally, resulting in a quicker recovery and no abdominal scar.

Mr Shahid provides comprehensive management of abnormal cervical smear. He is accredited by British Society of Colposcopy and Cervical Pathology. He is lead colposcopist in Wigan and Leigh NHS Trust. Mr Shahid also provides an extensive range of general gynaecology procedures, including colposcopy, transvaginal scanning and outpatient endometrial ablation with Minitouch. He has extensive experience in the management of menopause and is trained in MonaLisa Touch, an innovative minimally invasive treatment for vaginal dryness.
