Dr Chinnadorai Rajeswaran (Dr Raj) is a Consultant Physician specialising in endocrinology, obesity, and diabetes. With over 20 years' experience in the NHS and a busy private practice based in Bradford, Leeds, Sheffield and London, he provides expert management of endocrine disorders such as PCOS, thyroid problems, adrenal problems, tiredness, erectile dysfunction and infertility. Doctors from all over the country refer patients with complex obesity and diabetes for his opinion and treatment.

Dr Chinnadorai Rajeswaran (Dr Raj) is a Consultant Physician at Mid Yorkshire NHS Trust. Specialising in obesity, diabetes and endocrinology, he has been the clinical lead for obesity, responsible for a large multidisciplinary specialist weight management service. He also runs diabetes and endocrine clinics, as well as providing advice to NHS primary care teams on diabetes and weight management.

Dr Raj has extensive experience in the management of obesity, complex diabetes and endocrine disorders and has been instrumental in establishing several specialist weight loss management centres in the UK and overseas. He is the Director of Simplyweight, a global specialist weight loss management organisation offering specialist online and clinic-based programmes for people with obesity and associated co-morbidities such as diabetes, Hashimoto's thyroiditis, fatty liver, PCOS, erectile dysfunction and infertility.

He has private endocrine and weight loss clinics at Claremont Hospital in Sheffield, Nuffield Leeds Hospital, Simplyweight in Bradford and The London Obesity Clinic in London's Harley Street.

Dr Raj is a regular speaker at international conferences and has authored books and book chapters on obesity and diabetes. He is the founder and chair of the National Diabetes Forum, a network for healthcare professionals, and is the editor-in-chief of Diabetes in Practice.

Dr Raj is involved in local and international charity work aimed at helping both those with a weight problem and those who go hungry. To this end he has set up 'The Biggest Help', the charitable arm of Simplyweight dedicated to fighting hunger and food insecurity in the UK and abroad.
