

Matthew Oluwole

Consultant ENT Surgeon
Sheffield

Mr Matthew Oluwole is a highly experienced Consultant ENT Surgeon with a specialist expertise in the management of nasal and sinus disease, including snoring and sleep apnoea. Based at BMI Thornbury Hospital in Sheffield, he offers individually-tailored medical, surgical and educational services designed to involve patients in the management of their condition and to help them find the most appropriate treatment solution.

Mr Oluwole had a broad training in all aspects of ear Nose and Throat surgery, in particular keyhole and endoscopic sinus surgery. Qualifying in 1983, his postgraduate training encompassed Northern England and Dundee, followed by exposure in the West-Midlands and stints in North America. Working in the West Midlands, Mr Oluwole gained experience in all aspects of ENT surgery in general, while developing a special interest and expertise in rhinology and snoring. He attended training courses in the UK, Europe and North America and in 1998 understudied the late Professor Wolfgang Draf in Germany.

In over 20 years as a consultant, to date Mr Oluwole has carried out over 12,000 endoscopic (keyhole) sinus surgical procedures. These have been audited with commendable outcomes. His special interest is in rhinology and snoring.

Since 2016 Mr Oluwole has been Consultant ENT Surgeon with a special interest in Rhinology and Snoring at Sheffield Teaching Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust.

Mr Oluwole is a member of the British Rhinology Society and the Royal Society of Medicine and has served on the councils of both organisations. He lectures on post-graduate sinus surgery courses and has worked extensively with GPs, running local seminars and meetings and lecturing on national BMA GP update programmes.
